PRICE TEN CENTS

Two MIGs Downed in Dogfight Over Hanoi

REPORTER'S REFLECTIONS
—Dixon State School's open house set for Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m. is billed "See Your Tax Dollars at Work."

This is a fetching invitation, yet the suggestion may not be too popular.

It seems to us there are two points to consider. The first is since Dixon's largest employer is the state of Illinois not only some of our shekels which have been lifted for taxes but also those of our more than 10 million fellow Illinoisans flow back to ye old hometown. The second is the kind of facility the state runs here.

In regard to the first point, DSS is the city's fastest growing industry, at the beginning of the decade the state school had about 1,000 employees and today that number has burgeoned to 1,955 full-and part-time employees.

Its economic effect on the Dixon trade area may or may not be as great as the other economic development here since 1962, but that a monthly payroll which has risen to $630,000 has an impact on the commerce of the area cannot be doubted.

The budget for operating DSS for the two-year period to start July 1 is $26.2 million.

Since 1960 the state has invested about $12 million in new buildings and equipment at DSS. This amount of construction has put other hundreds of thousands of dollars into the economy of the area.

Continuing with the economics of our tax dollars at work we should note that an employer with an appetite for workers which has caused an almost 100 per cent hike in the number in seven years puts the area in an enviable position regarding the number of people who have jobs.

With the area's other economic development added to this, it can truly be said that any person who is able to work and wishes to find employment can do so in Dixon.

Turning to the kind of institution the state runs here. Everyone knows the chief purpose of DSS is for the care and treatment of the mentally retarded.

Like other kinds of services rendered, this caring for and treating the mentally retarded has also changed in recent years.

For instance, in 1960 the state school had about 1,000 employees and had about 5,000 residents and a waiting list that approached 2,000. Today, DSS has on its books about 5,000 individuals but not all reside at the institution. In fact, about 1,100 of them are physically living some other place. The waiting list has been reduced somewhat.

In 1960, the institution claimed overcrowding and understaffing; it makes the same claims today, but with more emphasis on the understaffing, which is said to be 50 per cent.

What has happened that the layman may not know about, and also which he may not entirely approve of, are essentially three things. The first two are that more employees now are needed to care for fewer residents because of the drive to reduce the ratio of employees to residents and because fewer residents work for the institution.

This latter change is brought about by automation in the new facilities and by an announced

Coppolino Seeks New Murder Trial

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — A new trial was asked for Dr. Carl Coppolino just hours after his conviction on charges of slaying his first wife, a defense attorney said today.

Assistant defense counsel James McEwen said a hearing on the new trial motion will be held at 5 p.m. Thursday before Circuit Court Judge Lynn Silverthorn who sentenced Coppolino Friday to life imprisonment.

McEwen said the defense will seek to have Coppolino released on bond during appeal of the case.

The chief defense attorney, F. Lee Bailey, predicted the second-degree murder conviction "will not stand."

"If he is to be guilty of poisoning," Bailey said, "he has to be guilty of premeditated first-degree murder." Coppolino was convicted Friday of killing his first wife, Carmela, 32, and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Bailey said he would start the appeal process "in the next several days."

The verdict, Bailey said, is the result of compromise between "the guilty and the not guilty."

In addition, he said he would seek to have Coppolino's $15,000 bail renewed, permissible in Florida in second-degree convictions.

Coppolino, 34, remained in jail at Sarasota, Fla., where Sheriff Russ Boyer said he would be treated like any other prisoner and sent to Raiford State Prison when the judge orders.

Percy Predicts U.S. Will Send 60,000 to Viet

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., says he believes the U.S. will send 60,000 more men to Vietnam in the next few months to escalate the war.

Percy, who was in Milwaukee Friday for a board meeting of Outboard Marine Corp., made the comment after watching on television the speech of Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

Percy said in addition to more troops, he believes additional appropriations will be requested to escalate the war.

The freshman Republican said American forces in Vietnam now number 439,000 and the number will increase to half a million.

Percy also said he is opposed to bombing of the north except on military supply lines. Such bombing, he said, only serves to support the North Vietnam leaders' contention that the U.S. is waging war against the entire people.

Thai-Based Jets Hit Key Targets

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Air Force F105 jets from Thailand bombed rail and highway targets on the outskirts of Hanoi today and shot down two Communist MIGs in eight dogfights above the North Vietnamese capital, a U.S. spokesman reported.

Radio Hanoi said seven American aircraft were shot down, three of them over Hanoi, but Hanoi's claims are usually exaggerated. The Americans did not report any losses since announcements are held up 24 hours to protect rescue operations for any downed pilots.

Marines Take Hill

American air power scored a significant victory in South Vietnam where two days of assaults by bombs and napalm drove a Communist battalion 350 to 400 men from Hill 861 controlling five Communist invasion routes from the Laotian border five miles to the west.

U.S. Marines had battled for the hill just below the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) for four days and called in artillery and strikes by B52 bombers and jet fighter-bombers to pound the heavily fortified trenches and bunkers blocking their advance. Marines were reported to have swarmed to the top today and found only 15 Communist bodies.

In line with the U.S. policy of getting increasingly rough with the Communists, a battalion of U.S. Marines (1,200 to 1,500 men) landed from U.S. 7th Fleet ships on the coast 25 miles south of Da Nang to break up a Communist concentration. Initial contact was light; two Communists were killed against no U.S. losses.

Red Build-Up

The chief American worry at the moment was a concentration of North Vietnamese troops in or just above the six-mile wide DMZ. Washington sources estimated the Red strength at four divisions and Saigon reports said as many as five. A North Vietnamese division runs up to 10,000 men but usually operates in smaller numbers.

State Department officials expecting an invasion across the DMZ at any time warned Friday that the United States is ready to play rough if that is what Hanoi wants. The United States recently flew in an estimated 10,000 soldiers to backup Marines blocking the invasion routes.

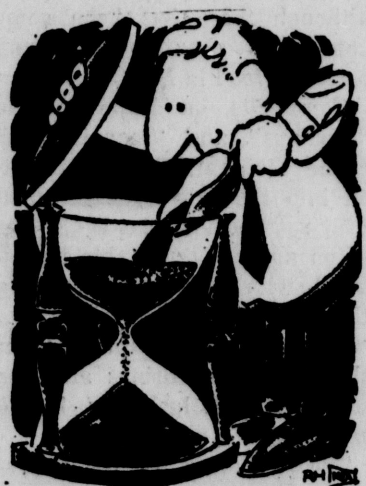

The Air Force jets today hit North Vietnam's main railway yard 2 1/2 miles from the center of Hanoi and a key highway bridge 12 miles west of the city, sending dense coils of greasy black smoke a mile into the air. The railway is the biggest in North Vietnam and the most important; the highway causeway handles traffic into Hanoi from the industrial Red River Valley.

Aerial Dogfights

Air Force pilots reported the Communists sent up 21 MIGs to challenge them, presumably from MIG airfields the Americans bombed earlier in the week for the first time of the war. At least eight separate dogfights were reported. In addition, the Communists filled the air with flak and surface-to-air (SAM) missiles.

The downings reported today brought to 44 the number of MIGs reported shot down by U.S. jets in the war, against a reported loss of 12 and an

Daylight Saving Time Starts Sunday

CHICAGO (AP) — Daylight Saving Time starts its six-month run at 2 a.m. Sunday in 45 states and in some sections of other states.

Under a law enacted by Congress clocks will be moved ahead one hour and the Daylight Saving Time period will continue until 2 a.m. the last Sunday in October.

The law provides that any state can exempt itself by vote of its legislature. It also provides that the U.S. Department of Transportation, which administers the new law, can excuse a state from compliance this year.

Young Sisters Murdered in Detroit Suburb

WESTLAND, Mich. (UPI) — Police today hunted the killer of two young sisters who were raped and strangled Friday while returning home from school a block away.

It was the second time in a year that this quiet, residential suburb of Detroit was wracked by fear of a mysterious assailant.

The nude bodies of Deborah Louise Crowther, 8, and her sister, Kimberly Faith, 6, were found in a field by Allan McNally, 16, shortly after they were slain, about one-half block from their home.

Last year several cases of women being assaulted and children molested sent terror and anger through the community. Parent-teacher groups designated homes on each block where children could go in case of trouble.

The homes were marked by a large sign in the windows, easily visible from the street. The sheriff's office was flooded with requests for gun permits. Police said they had questioned some suspects in the brutal slaying of the two young sisters, but were not holding anyone. A special force of 15 detectives worked through the night searching for clues.

Extension Approval Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress appears certain to grant President Johnson's request for a 47-day extension of the no-strike period in the nationwide dispute between the railroads and six shopcraft unions.

But several senators made clear their support was based on the President's pledge that he would submit legislation within a few days to solve the dispute.

The Senate Labor Committee approved the extension resolution 15 to 0 Friday afternoon, within several hours after the decision to request it had been reached at a morning White House conference.

Then both branches are expected to pass the resolution Monday afternoon, sending it to Johnson for his signature well ahead of the threatened strike at 12:01 A.M. Wednesday.

Trucker Dispute

Union, Industry Talks Fail Friday

CHICAGO (AP) — Talks between Teamster and trucking industry negotiators in Chicago Friday failed to resolve a contract dispute and left little hope for a quick settlement of the trucking stoppage that has crippled shipping in the Chicago area.

No new talks were scheduled after the all-day session with Mayor Richard J. Daley and federal mediators.

"We didn't resolve anything," declared Frank Fitzsimmons, general vice president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. Other union officials expressed similar sentiments and one called the session "a failure."

A spokesman for the trucking industry expressed cautious optimism "that we can reach a

Crash Today

Oregon Woman Killed

OREGON — A 70-year-old Oregon woman was killed today in a head-on collision on rain-swept Illinois 2, about 6 miles south of Oregon.

Dead on arrival at Warmolts Clinic, Oregon, was Mrs. S. R. (Minnie) Kaisher, Rt. 2.

Injured in the accident were Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Anderson, Rockford. They are being treated at KSB Hospital, Dixon. Nature of their injuries is undetermined.

According to witnesses, Anderson's southbound car came upon a line of slow-moving vehicles and skidded into the northbound lane striking the Oregon woman's auto headon.

Mrs. Kaisher was alone in the car.

Greek King To Tour Army Camps During Easter

ATHENS (AP) — Greece began today a weekend of Orthodox Easter celebrations during which King Constantine is to make his first public appearance and tour of military camps since the armed forces took over the nation eight days ago.

The king and members of the new government are to mark the beginning of Easter with a religious service in a square before this capital's main cathedral. At midnight, the king traditionally proclaims, "Christ is risen."

General's Report

Critics Predict Viet Escalation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Critics doily predicted today further escalation of the Vietnam fighting while supporters foresaw a stiffening of homefront resolve as the result of Gen. William C. Westmoreland's Washington rounds.

Addressing Congress, briefing governors and conferring personally with key legislators Friday, the U.S. commander in Vietnam won high praise from both opponents and supporters of President Johnson's policies for his direction of the military effort against the Communists.

Failed to Turn Tide

But it was apparent Westmoreland had failed to turn the tide of crackling congressional criticism directed at Johnson's intensification of the war and at his action in bringing the general home to report at a crucial time in the battle for public opinion.

The returns from the outlying precincts would determine how the country might respond to the televised and broadcast appeal of the tall, handsomely graying general for continued strong popular support he called "vital to the success of our mission."

U.S. Ready To Meet Any Major Red Offensive

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials say any major North Vietnamese offensive launched across the demilitarized zone into South Vietnam will be met with force.

If the Communists want to play rough, we will play rough, State Department officials said Friday night. They spoke under rules barring direct quotation or attribution to them by name.

The officials agreed with Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, and with reports from Saigon that North Vietnam probably will launch soon a major offensive across the DMZ.

Red Buildup

They also reported a buildup of Communist forces around the DMZ and boosted infiltration preparations against the south.

The latter action, they said, cast doubt on the sincerity of the Viet Cong proposal for a 48-hour truce May 23-24 to observe Buddha's birthday anniversary. South Vietnam has proposed a one-day cease fire then.

Defense Department spokesmen said Friday the two North Vietnam MIG airfields bombed by U.S. planes Monday are back in operation.

It had been understood the bases, at Hoa Lac and Kep, were in use the day after the attacks, the first of their kind. The Pentagon declined to confirm this, however.

In other Vietnam-related developments Friday:

—President Johnson named Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer Jr. as deputy to Westmoreland. Palmer succeeds Lt. Gen. Jean E. Engler as director of the Army element in Vietnam.

Johnson also promoted to lieutenant general Westmoreland's chief of staff, Maj. Gen. William B. Rosson, who will take over command of Field Force 1 in the central highlands. Promoted to three-star rank was Maj. Gen. Frederick C. Weyand, who will take command of Field Force 2, which encompasses the Saigon area.

3 Injured In Head-On Collision

AMBOY — Three persons were injured, one seriously, in a head-on collision Friday at the intersection of the Lee Center spur and U.S. 52.

Mrs. Robert Ensminger, 47, Paw Paw, is in serious condition today in KSB Hospital, Dixon. Her husband was treated and released from the hospital shortly after the accident.

Shirley Full, 17, Sublette, a passenger in a car driven by Joyce E. Bulfer, 17, Sublette, is listed in fair condition at the hospital.

State Police said Ensminger's eastbound car was hit head-on when Miss Bulfer's northbound auto failed to stop at a stop sign. Both autos sustained major damage.

Miss Bulfer was arrested for failing to stop at the stop sign.

Two men escaped injury at about 4:45 p.m. Friday when their cars crashed into a ditch on U.S. Alt. 30, a mile west of Dixon.

State Police said a car driven by Emil Hey, 39, Dixon, was westbound and passing an auto driven by Hugh Jenkins, 51, Covington, Ga. Hey, troopers said, swerved back into the lane too quickly while trying to avoid an oncoming vehicle and the two cars rammed into the ditch.

Hey was arrested for improper passing. Both cars sustained about $400 damage.

Scholarships Available to NIU Students

DEKALB—Monday is the deadline for filing applications for some $12,000 in Northern Illinois University award (NIU) scholarships for students and prospective students for the 1967-68 year.

Forms for approximately 50 different scholarships are available in the office of the Coordinator of Student Financial Aids, Altgeld Hall 305. The awards are described in the 1967-68 undergraduate catalog.

Students applying for financial aid at NIU are required to submit the Parents' Confidential Statement by Monday. This form also is available in the Coordinator's office. Completed forms must be submitted by Monday to College Scholarship Service Box 881, Evanston. The service evaluates a student's financial need.

Also due Monday in the Coordinator's office are applications for national defense loans, United Student Aid Fund loans and grants-in-aid.

Many of the University-awarded scholarships have restrictive qualifications. Claude Kaczmarek, assistant coordinator of student financial aids, points out. The restrictions may apply to place of residence, academic major, year in school, sex, cumulative grade-point average and semester hours complete in addition to others.

Some organizations award more than one scholarship. In several instances, the number of scholarships or the amounts of the awards or both depend upon total money available. In this category are included The Illinois Club, School of Banking Scholarships, the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers Scholarships and the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs Special Education Scholarships.

Among NIU-awarded scholarships with a set number and amount are: One each: B'nai B'rith Hillel, $100; Maurine Bloomster Coxhead Memorial, $100; Harriet Wilson Davy, $100; Eva Reed Hall Memorial, $100; M. C. Hayes, $100; High Ridge School PTA, $200; Josephine M. Jandell, $100; Grace E. Nix, $100; Pleiades, $50; Rochelle Lions Club, $300; Sigma Alpha Iota Music, $50; Owens, $100; Nancy B. Hall, $100.

Minimum of three: Alumni, $300 each; one to several: Tower Finance Corporation, up to $500 maximum.

One each but with amount unlimited: Karl L. Adams, Alpha Omicron Pi, Sigma Lambda Sigma. Other scholarships available include these which pay tuition and fees but do not list the number: Class of 1966 Alumni, and Parents Club Undergraduate.

Many non-University-awarded scholarships are available. These include state scholarships: Teacher Education, Illinois State, Illinois State Upper Class Award, Special Education Teachers, Illinois Veteran State, and Legislative. There are also County Scholarships, Talented Student Awards and State Division of Vocational Rehabilitation Scholarships.

Ethics Committee Ready To Meet Long Challenge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate ethics committee members say they're prepared to meet Sen. Russell B. Long's challenge to their recommendation that Sen. Thomas J. Dodd be censured for financial misconduct.

Long, the Louisianaian who is assistant Democratic leader, accused the bipartisan committee Friday of making a scapegoat of Dodd, whom he defended as "a fine, decent, honest man — a fine father and family man."

In talking with a reporter Long first said half the committee couldn't withstand the investigation Dodd went through. In a later interview with newsmen he upped that to half the Senate.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., ethics panel chairman, declined comment. But vice chairman Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, of the six-member committee said the other 94 senators will have an opportunity "to decide whether the senator from Louisiana is right or the committee is right."

Another member of the committee, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., told a reporter Long is "the only senator I've heard of who has expressed dissatisfaction with our report."

Sen. A.S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., also on the committee, said it took "the greatest care" in its 14-month investigation of Dodd, a 59-year-old Connecticut Democrat who has denied any wrongdoing.

The question, he said, is whether funds raised for Dodd at testimonials were put to proper use.

The committee unanimously recommended Dodd be censured for diverting to his personal use $116,083 in political funds and for double billing the Senate and private organizations for travel expenses.

Its proposed censure resolution said Dodd's conduct "is contrary to accepted morals, derogates from the public trust expected of a senator, and tends to bring the Senate into dishonor and disrepute."

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield told the Senate Friday there will be no vote on the resolution next week. He said it might come up at any time after that.

Long told Mansfield he was reassured by this announcement since it would give those "who want to stand by Tom Dodd" time to prepare their case.

Asked what he thought the outcome would be in the Senate, Long replied: "If he who is without sin should cast the first stone, there won't be many stones thrown."

100 to 150 Year Sentence For Lassiter

CHICAGO (AP) — A man who set fire to a tavern he had been thrown out of, killing 13 persons, has been sentenced to prison for 100 to 150 years.

"The deed was horrible in its contemplation and horrendous in its consequence," Judge Archibald Carey of Circuit Court told Robert Lee Lassiter, 27, Friday before imposing 13 identical sentences of 100 to 150 years for murder, to be served concurrently.

Lassiter, a Negro, was convicted March 31 after a bench trial. He waived trial by jury as efforts were being made to impale one.

Witnesses testified that Lassiter, after being ejected from a tavern frequented by Negroes at 2026 W. Madison St., bought two gallons of gasoline at a nearby service station, spilled it on the tavern floor just inside the entrance and ignited it.

Judge Carey denied a defense motion for a new trial.

Move To Send Drugs Is Rejected by Red China

TOKYO (AP) — Calling it a dirty trick, Communist China rejected today a move by the Johnson administration to allow sales of American drugs to fight epidemics reported on the Chinese mainland.

An article in the official Peking People's Daily under the headline, "God of Plague Peddles Vaccine" accused the United States of trying to spread rumors about epidemics in order to harm China's relations with its neighbors.

Travelers from Red China have reported widespread outbreaks of meningitis, cholera and infectious hepatitis, and official Chinese statements have tended to back up the reports.

U.S. officials said last week 14 domestic drug manufacturers were told at a meeting with Lawrence C. McQuade, assistant secretary of commerce for domestic and international business, that the government would look favorably on applications to sell to the Chinese such drugs as cholera vaccines, tetracycline, sulfa and penicillin.

Sources said the government acted partly for humanitarian reasons and partly in the hope of preventing the reported epidemics from spreading to friendly Asian countries. The move did not indicate "any real lowering of barriers" against U.S. firms trading with Red China, one source said.

The Peking People's Daily commented on the U.S. move in terms similar to its scathing attacks on American involvement in Vietnam.

It said the United States was making "extremely vicious anti-Chinese propaganda" intended to discredit the Chinese people and "present heinous U.S. imperialism as a god of mercy to deceive the people of the world."

"This is very sinister, indeed," the newspaper said.

"Bless us: These U.S. imperialist panjandrums have suddenly taken pity on us Chinese people and shown concern for our health!" it said. "Should we not weep tears of gratitude? Unfortunately people can see at once that it is a dirty trick and nothing less."

"My view is that we should not surrender or pull out, but we should quit sending in more and more troops and bombing closer and closer to the Chinese frontier until we finally force the other side into the kind of total commitment that would require an endless multitude of American soldiers going into Asia for the rest of our lives."

Transfer of Liquor License OK'd in Oregon

OREGON—Transfer of a liquor license from Mrs. Eva Hays Douglas, former owner of the Stenhouse Tavern here to John W. Williams, present tavern owner, was approved Friday night by the Oregon City Council.

The tavern is located on Illinois 2, at the south edge of the city. Councilmen renewed 10 other liquor licenses and renewed licenses for the Oregon Theatre, two bowling machines, three pool tables and two taxicabs.

An award which was to have been presented to Councilman John Dentler, who served on the council for 12 years, will be presented at a later date. Dentler was ill and unable to attend the meeting.

Defeated last week in his bid for reelection, Dentler was mayor of Oregon from 1955 to 1959 and served on the city council from 1951-55 and 1959-67.

Councilmen tabled action on an agreement with the Ogle County Housing Authority on a federally sponsored housing project.

City Attorney William Fearer told the council he would study provisions of the agreement before advising the council.

LOOKING AROUND

By E. G.

Wasn't last Sunday a beaut? . . . but it didn't upset the lawn-mowing plans of the Al Gustafsons . . . they went right ahead mowing their lawn after the grass was covered with that beautiful white stuff . . . looking around our town — the snow and low temps didn't seem to bother the lilacs and other flowering shrubs too much . . . some of the younger "Weeping Willows" look a bit scraggly around the edges and a bit more weepy . . . if the weatherman cooperates this might be the weekend to view the uniform plantings of the "Flowering Crab" in Assembly Park.

Had fun being an "Inquiring Reporter" this week . . . all prompted by an inquiry coming into the Telegraph regarding "Arbor Day" . . . this sent me on my way asking, at random, questions on two different subjects . . . the second popped into my mind due to the publicity it has received . . . but first things first.

Question No. 1 . . . "When is Arbor Day?" . . . some gave blank looks — didn't even know what was meant by Arbor Day . . . a salesman, when posed this problem, promptly reached into his pocket and drew out a calendar . . . "H-m-m, doesn't say" . . . when asked if he knew what Arbor Day was, he replied, "It's to celebrate putting up arborers" . . . another answer was that "Irving Arbor is the man responsible for it, but don't remember what he invented."

When asked to answer "True" or "False" to the question, "Was Arbor Day founded at Ann Arbor?" one sweet young thing replied it must be "true, 'cause it sounds so logical." . . . also — "It has to do with planting — so it must have something to do with the farmers." . . . one gentleman was positive that "Arbor Day" is in October . . . only six of the persons questioned knew what Arbor Day was — and, according to another Telegraph employee, only one local nurseryman knew the date it was observed.

Can remember when "Arbor Day" was a big deal . . . much publicity beforehand . . . pictures and stories in the papers showing school children planting trees . . . the day was marked on all calendars . . . haven't seen a notation on any of this year's calendars . . . for those who may not know about "Arbor Day" — here is the info in brief.

'Tis an annual tree-planting day . . . idea originated in Nebraska in April of 1872 . . . Sterling Morton is the man credited with the idea of setting aside a day every year for the public planting of trees and calling this day, Arbor Day . . . around 1882 it was made chiefly a school festival for the beautification of public grounds . . . Nebraska made it a legal holiday in 1885 . . . many states, including Illinois, have not set aside the last Friday in April as "Arbor Day" . . . perhaps, like other American traditions, it is losing its appeal — and falling by the wayside — because the Great Society has launched a beautification program and the Great Society can do anything better than we can.

The other question, "Who is George Covert?" and "Do you think the Park Board should have dismissed him as tennis instructor?" brought forth these answers all wrapped up in one neat little package.

"He's the tennis teacher" . . . "He makes good tennis players" . . . "Not much time to think too much about it" . . . "Something sort of fishy about it" . . . "Heck, he's the guy that turns out such great tennis players" . . . "Yeah, just read about him not teaching tennis anymore — that's a shame — he taught kids good sportsmanship — how to be winners — but most important of all — how to be good losers" . . . "Not much feeling one way or the other" . . . "Shouldn't have done it — something sort of funny about it — doesn't cost much for what the kids get out of it."

"Are you kiddin'?" — because of his tennis coaching Chill Fichter, Henry Utley, Jim Schwitters, Bill Underwood, Dave Knouse, George E. Acker Jr., and late Maj. Floyd Acker and many others went to college on Tennis Scholarships" . . . "Couldn't care less" . . . "Oh, maybe the Park Board think they're big wheels — want to show their authority — it couldn't be money 'cause what Mr. Covert got out of it was a mere drop-in-the-bucket." . . . "Don't care one way or the other — never played tennis and don't have any kids that play tennis" . . . "It's a raw deal" . . . "Well, the way I look at it — the Park Board had such great sport messin' around with the ducks that they want to see if they can mess up the Tennis Program." . . . and so it goes for an "Inquiring Reporter" . . . maybe there are other questions you would like to have the opinion from a cross-section of our citizenry . . . if so, let this writer know.

Dixie Murren, daughter of the Del Murrens has been elected Delta Zeta representative to Pan Hel Council at Western University, Macomb. . . The Robert Shaws and the Ben Shaws attended newspaper meetings this week in New York . . . and Wednesday was the day the Chuck Marshalls moved into their new home near the Dixon Country club entrance on Rt. 3.

Happy birthday to . . . Barbara Murphy and Don Schrock, the 20th . . . Dr. Clay Collins, Larry and Linda Lidinsky (sweet-sixteen), Diane Sheaffer and Mrs. Kathryn LeFevre, the 1st of May . . . Lucy Shaw and Robert C. Seales, the 2nd.

Chris George No Longer An 'Unknown'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "What's a Chris George?" said a television series planned when her name was suggested for "Rat Patrol." "Let's get Tab Hunter."

Fortunately for ABC and Chris George, name actors were not cast in the desert-warfare series. And now television viewers in large numbers have discovered what a Chris George is.

He is a rugged ex-Marine from Royal Oaks, Mich., and his smooth manner bears an undercurrent of toughness. His style will soon be on view for moviegoers, too, in two films.

"Rat Patrol" was one of the fe whits of the 1966-67 TV season among the fledgling shows. How did it succeed where others failed?

"The first reason was the desert," Chris George theorized. "The second was the interrelationship of the five stars on the show; we really work well together."

"The war itself was an important element, I believe. The battles in North Africa were the last time in history when war was carried on a chivalric manner, when gentlemen opposing each other could be capable of noble acts. The history of the desert war is full of them."

It has been a rugged war for "Rat Patrol." The first part was shot in Spain.

"The terrain was beautiful, and we had some great props — all the German tanks and trucks that Hitler had given Franco," said George. "But the living was miserable. The place where we were would be a beautiful spot for a two-week vacation. But stay 15 days and you'd start blowing your mind. We were there three months!"

The rain, unfortunately, stayed mainly on the plain where they were working. Because of the weather and Hollywood cries that "Rat Patrol" was a "runaway production," the series returned to the United States. The Mojave desert locations were equally rough, and a jeep accident almost wiped out three-fifths of the cast.

"Helping Hundreds Save Thousands"

Credibility, Gullibility Gaps Confuse Youths

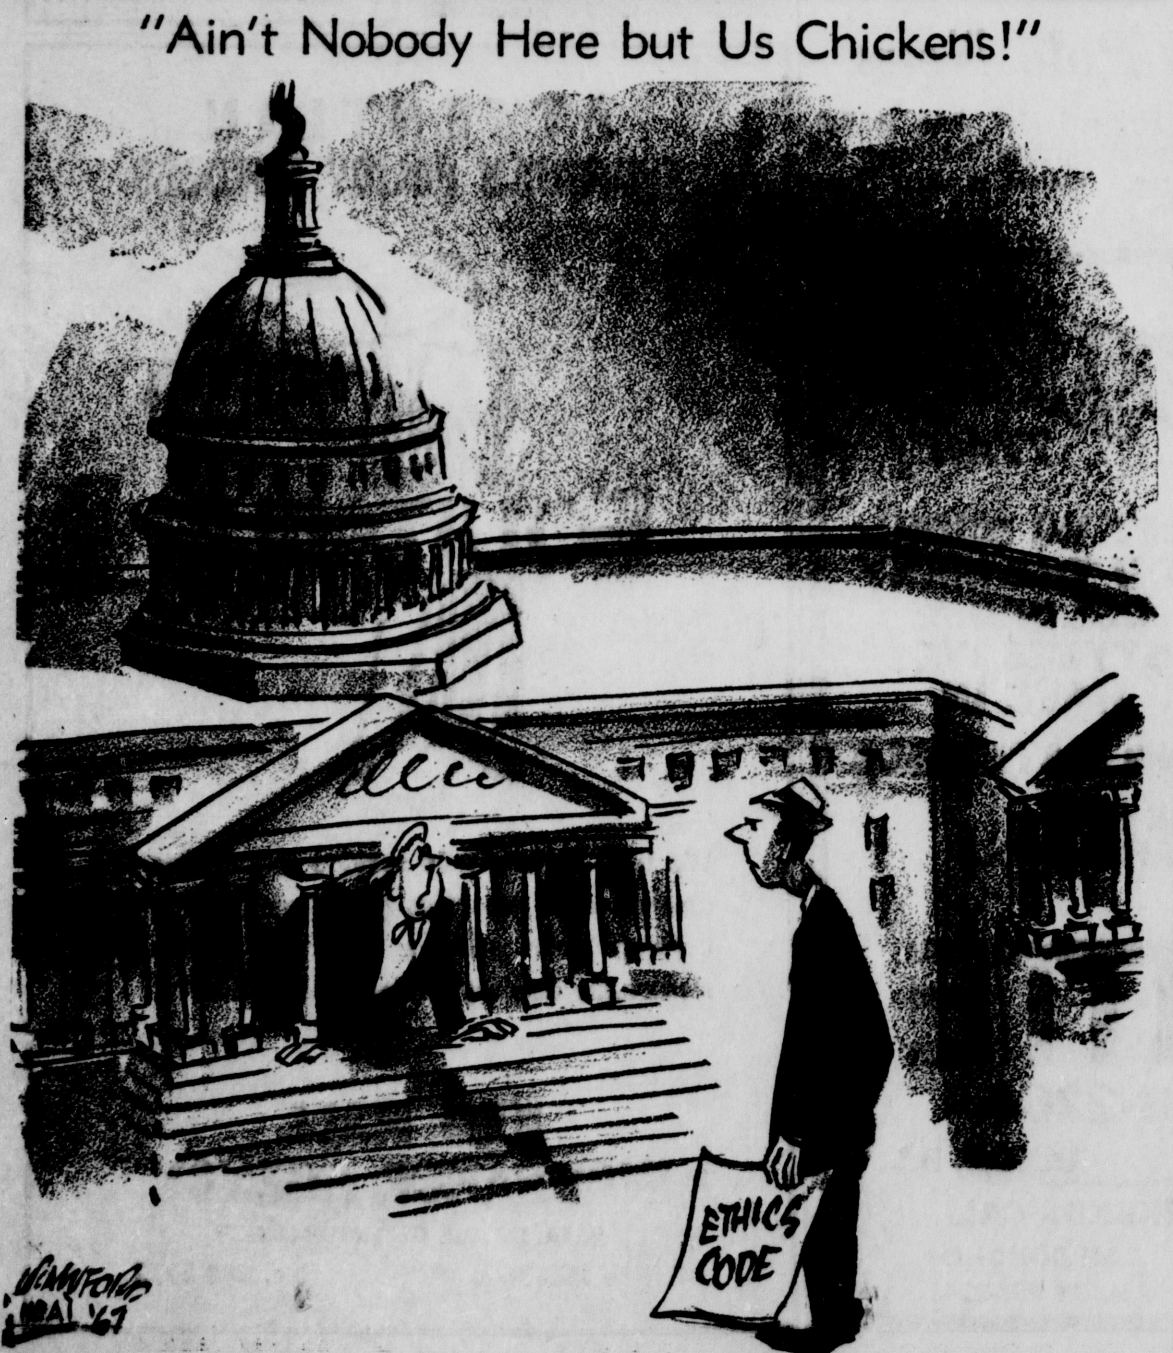

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — No one knows how many young men have run off to Canada to escape the draft. Estimates run from 400 to 2,000.
Not all are happy with their decision to run. From where he lives in Canada, one of these draft dodgers wrote to President Johnson. His letter follows:
"Recently I read that you have offered draft dodgers a second chance to fulfill their military obligation. I am one who would be most willing to accept parole into the service. I want to return to the United States to serve in Vietnam. What must I do?
"It is clear to me now that my emigration was due less to any strong moral objection to the war in Vietnam than to a horror of war in general — the horror which most men feel. I have erred in basing my decision on feeling rather than reason. In the confused debates of my university life, I mistook my own confusion for true doubts of conscience. I do not mean that I have all the answers even now. I mean only that I am now convinced of the correctness of my country's intentions in Vietnam.
"Please, give me this chance to serve."
Other young men have declared themselves conscientious objectors. Their claims have been verified and they have done work (or are doing work) in lieu of military service. These are excerpts from a letter by one of these men:
"For the past two years I have been serving in the capacity of a teacher in the American School of Leopoldville, Congo . . . (doing work in lieu of military service).
"Originally, I claimed exemption from the military service because I felt it was wrong to engage in war and to destroy lives. Upon completing my term in Leopoldville and after seeing many people miraculously rescued from the atrocities of rebel hands (who were nothing more than fiendish men with evil intentions of all sorts), I became convinced that I could not be honest to God nor myself in claiming the freedoms we hold so dear to us unless I, too, placed my life in jeopardy, if need be, to help many less fortunate peoples in this world—like others have already done for me.

"I still believe that peace is the best answer to our world conflicts and that war is the worst answer, but I can not claim peace, security and freedom for myself unless I am willing to stand and protect them. It is a shame that men are destroyed by war, but it is a far greater shame for me if I do not play my part in helping the many enslaved peoples of this world out of their problems . . .
"I am requesting a change in classification from I-O (conscientious objector) to I-A (available for military service), so that I can do my part in supporting the rights and freedoms we hold so dear . . .
"As an American and as a Christian, this is the only choice I can make and be honest to myself and to God."
These two examples suggest there should be more debate on Vietnam and the draft, not less.
Because exhibitionists, "kooks" and Communists oppose U.S. actions, it does not erase the fact that some sincere, patriotic young men and women are deeply confused and worried.
It is only fair to the nation and to these young people that their doubts and worries be honestly and thoroughly discussed.
Most young people, like most older people, want to do the right thing.
Only give-and-take discussion will end the confusion.

Guerillas Cuba's Principal Export

By LEON DENNEN
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (NEA) — From Bolivia and Venezuela in Latin America to Rhodesia in Africa, guerrillas trained in Cuba are today directing revolutionary movements, subverting governments and fomenting civil wars.
Fidel Castro is on the war-path again. Spurred by Red China and restrained by the Russian "revisionists," Cuba's bearded dictator has decided to go into the revolutionary business on his own.
According to U.N. diplomats, Castro recently has agreed to train guerrillas in Eritrea, where a leftist secessionist movement is waging a mounting campaign of terror and harassment against the Ethiopian government of Emperor Haile Selassie.
As one Latin-American diplomat said, "Guerrillas are now Castro's greatest commodity for export."
Cuba's dictator has never made a secret of his belief that for him communism means a "romantic" revolutionary line—an adherence to guerrilla struggles. He sees this as his important contribution to revolutionary strategy.
Though his very existence depends on Russian economic aid, Castro even denounced his Soviet and East European benefactors because they seek to improve relations with the non-Communist states in Latin America.
The Cuban dictator has obvious reasons for resenting Moscow's flirtations with the more liberal regimes of Latin America. He sees the policy of reforms of the liberal regimes—especially since the recent summit conference at Punta del Este—as a direct challenge to his own hopes for revolution throughout the American continent.
The Russians are also reported to have discreetly given assurances to the Latin Americans that they will not support Castro's guerrillas operating in Guatemala, Bolivia, Venezuela and Colombia.
The Cuban's revolutionary ambitions were at first directed mainly at Latin America. But his increasing isolation in the Western Hemisphere, as the Punta del Este meeting emphasized anew, and the setbacks suffered by the guerrilla groups have caused him to look for "revolutionary victories" farther afield.

Thus Cuban-trained guerrillas are today fighting in Vietnam, Rhodesia, Eritrea and in the Portuguese territories of Angola and Mozambique.
The fact that Communist North Korea is collaborating with Cuba in the organization of guerrilla schools is further evidence that some Red countries that are opposed to both China and Russia are trying to set up their own "revolutionary international."
Frustrated in Latin America, Castro is currently cultivating diplomatic and military links with some African countries. He maintains embassies in Congo-Brazzaville, Tanzania and the United Arab Republic. Only two African states, Guinea and Mali, have established permanent embassies in Havana.
Until the fall of Kwame Nkrumah, Ghana was Castro's principal center for subversion in Africa. Now it is Tanzania.
Cuba's unusually large staff of "diplomats" in Tanzania's capital of Dar es Salaam is reportedly concerned primarily with promoting guerrilla warfare in Rhodesia. According to African diplomats in the United Nations, Castro has pledged to help black Rhodesians to overthrow the government of Premier Ian Smith.

BERRY'S WORLD

"I AM FED-UP WITH THE SUPREME COURT, AND I DON'T WANT TO EVER HEAR THAT NAME MENTIONED IN THIS HOUSE AGAIN!"

Dear Ann: By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I am 24, married and have one child. Last week I went to a bank to borrow money. I wanted to buy a new car. My credit is A-1, and everything checked out fine. Then I mentioned that I was a member of a reserve unit. The banker gave me a fishy eye and said, "Reserve unit, eh? Well, you'll have to get a co-signer for this loan."

I explained I didn't want a co-signer. I want to be solely responsible for my financial obligations. The banker then quoted a law saying any man who gets called to active duty may be temporarily relieved of his debts. His last words fractured me. He said, "If you get called up we would be stuck for the money until you got back."

I'm so burned up I can hardly see straight. Why should a loyal American who is serving his country by joining a reserve unit be treated this way? — CAN'T SEE IT

Dear Can't: The law that says a serviceman is temporarily relieved of his financial obligations was designed to help, not hurt, men in uniform. If you don't want a co-signer, go to a bank that does not require one. And more power to you, fella, I like your spirit of independence.

Dear Ann Landers: I have always been high-strung and nervous. A few years ago I had a breakdown and spent several months in a private mental hospital. I still see my doctor because he gives me self-confidence.

My question is this: When friends know you have been hospitalized for mental illness, why do they treat you as if you are some sort of an oddball? I try to be relaxed and behave in a normal manner, but I have the feeling that people are always analyzing me and looking for signs of abnormal behavior.

The only friends I am truly at ease with are those who also have had emotional breakdowns. My husband is a wonderful man and we have four children who are normal and above-average students. Please tell me how I can get people to accept me as I am. — VANCOUVER

Dear Van: Your central problem is lack of confidence and an over-active imagination. What you see in others is a reflection of your own insecurity. When you become truly secure you will no longer be concerned about what others are thinking.

Dear Ann Landers: I just read the lovely letter from the woman who made her husband's retirement years the happiest years of their married life. Have you noticed that the people who make the best of difficult situations enjoy life the most? It's too bad people so often marry and then try to change each other. Women are guilty of this more often than men.

When I complained to my mother, early in our marriage, that my husband left his underwear and socks on the floor, she said, "Pick them up and shut up about it. It takes less energy than nagging him."

I took her advice and I am sure it has saved many an argument. Please tell young wives that we must be flexible enough to put up with less than perfection in those we love. — RUTH

Dear Ruth: You told them. And beautifully, too. Your moth-

Don Oakley Theme Challenge To Equal Justice

"No man is below the law," is the theme of this year's observance of Law Day, May 1. The slogan, which is the other side of the more familiar "No man is above the law," has drawn fire from one of the nation's foremost legal educators, Paul M. Siskind, dean of Boston University Law School.
If it is stated as an objective, the theme is worth-while and timely, says the dean, writing in the current issue of Trial magazine, published by the American Trial Lawyers Association.
If it is intended to describe the abstract existence of a body of law available to those fortunate enough to have the resources to invoke it on their behalf, it is "substantially accurate."
But if it is intended to describe the complete effectiveness of our system of law and the protection of the rights of all our people, "it is no more than the statement of a condition which simply has not yet been achieved . . .
"So long as people are denied access to the effective operation of that legal system, no matter how justly and equitably it is conceived and maintained, to them it sits like a rare jewel in a museum, beautiful but remote.
"A man is below the law whenever the law is beyond his reach."
Recent Supreme Court mandates requiring that counsel be provided for defendants charged with major criminal activity are highly commendable, says Siskind. They are so basic to a system which congratulates itself that "no man is below the law" that he finds it hard to imagine how they could have been considered revolutionary.
However, even our everyday lives have become so complex, he says, that legal counsel is needed in all but the most routine situations. Yet in the United States there are literally millions of people who through poverty or ignorance, or usually a combination of both, have no effective access to counsel.
He calls on the organized members of the bar to be the moving force to remedy this situation.
The Law Day theme, concludes Siskind, is really a boast which needs to be made good and a challenge which must be met before we can truly say that "No man is below the law."

Award Winners Are Honored At Beta Sigma Phi Banquet

The 36th anniversary of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority was celebrated at a Founder's Day Banquet Wednesday night at the Brown Shingle when representatives of the four Dixon chapters were selected for the "Girl of the Year" award.

Chosen for the honor on the basis of their participation in sorority activities and for individual contributions to their respective chapters were Mrs. Arnold Spangler, Exemplar Chapter; Mrs. George Bailey, Gamma Mu Chapter; Mrs. Wayne Heckman, Preceptor Chapter, and Mrs. Charles Simmons, Eta Chi Chapter.

The award winners were presented bouquets of yellow roses, the Beta Sigma Phi flower, by Mrs. John Cornwell, Mrs. Samuel Berard, Mrs. John Aaby and Mrs. Myron Fried, and each "Girl of the Year" reviewed activities sponsored by her chapter during 1967.

Traditional ceremonies were planned for the banquet program in recognition of the sorority's founding by Walter W. Ross in Abilene, Kan., on April 30, 1931, to promote cultural and social activities for young women. Today, 185,000 members of 8,000 chapters located in 15 countries contribute annually to the Cancer Research Foundation, Cystic Fibrosis research and to the support of Literacy Village in Luknow, India.

A highlight of the program was the annual message from Mr. Ross read by Mrs. Joseph Braun, and the Founder's Day pledge was led by Mrs. Dallas LaCourse. It was also announced that Gov. Otto Kerner had proclaimed this week as "Beta Sigma Phi Week."

Mrs. David Shindler acted as toastmistress for the program, which included an invocation by Mrs. Robert Shipman, and sorority pledges attending the event were welcomed by Mrs. Spangler.

Entertainment following the banquet featured a program and demonstration on "Beauty Tips" by Mrs. Joseph Engelbrecht when Mrs. Arthur Cook was selected as her model, and special prizes were awarded to Mrs. Merrill Hughes, Mrs. John Schuler, Mrs. Elwin Wikoff, Mrs.

Shipman and Mrs. Wendell Snell. Miniature white baskets filled with yellow roses were favors for each guest, and a centerpiece of roses was awarded as a prize to Miss Evelyn Smith. Mrs. Aaby served as chairman for the 1967 Founder's Day observance, and was assisted by a committee composed of members representing each local chapter.

Martin-Barberis Wedding

OREGON — Bouquets of white gladioli and pompons trimmed the altar of St. Paul's Lutheran Church for the recent wedding of Miss Marielle Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Martin, Oregon, and Joseph Barberis Jr., son of Mrs. Joseph Barberis Sr., Peoria, and the late Mr. Barberis.

The Rev. Armin G. Weng, pastor of the church, was officiating clergyman for the afternoon double-ring ceremony, and nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Arthur Dietze, organist.

The bride's street length dress of white silk organza was fashioned with a scalloped neckline and bell sleeves of pearl-embroidered Alencon lace, and was accented by a floating back panel. Organza petals trimmed with pearls formed the headpiece that held her shoulder length illusion veil, and white roses and foliage were combined in her bridal bouquet.

She was given in marriage by her father, and was attended by her sister, Miss Sherry Martin, who was attired in a pink organza frock designed with an empire bodice and bell sleeves. Her head-dress was a matching bow with attached veiling, and she carried a cascading arrangement of pink roses.

For the ceremony Mrs. Martin wore a two-piece costume of beige ribbon lace with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations and roses, and the bridegroom's mother chose a dress of aqua silk, harmonizing accessories and a corsage of white carnations and roses.

James D. Barberis, Peoria, served as the bridegroom's best man, and assisted Timothy R. Tolly, Peoria, in ushering wedding guests from Oregon, Peoria, Bartonville, Norris, Canton, Sterling, Wenona, Rockford, DeKalb, Wheaton and from Milford, Ind.

Preceding their departure on a wedding trip, the newlyweds were honored at a reception and buffet luncheon in the church fellowship hall. Tables arranged for the guests were covered with white linen and held center bouquets of white daisy pompons.

At present 50 per cent of marriages are failures!

That doesn't mean we have a 50 per cent divorce rate, for it is only between 25 per cent and 35 per cent.

But the remainder are feuding couples who lead "cat and dog" lives, but decide to stick it out till the kiddies are through high school.

Or their religion places a taboo on divorce.

If American business firms and farmers showed a similar 50 per cent bankruptcy rate every year, wouldn't there be a wild clamor for frank economic advice?

For business is basic to our entire Republic and "Free Enterprise" system.

And HAPPY homes are likewise the bulwark of our social fabric and moral institutions.

Yet divorce is rising alarmingly!

Juvenile delinquency is zooming!

Sex crimes are skyrocketing nationwide!

But our schools and churches still are generally afraid to get down to brass tacks on sex matters, due to prudery of the past.

Colleges may offer "Marriage Courses" which deal beautifully with interior decorating, cooking, child rearing, etc.

But NOT with sex problems in the bedroom!

Yet divorces usually start in the bedroom!

Colleges are afraid of offending some older Board of Trustees members, who are being nursed along with the hope of wangling maybe $10,000,000 from them for the college endowment or new buildings.

In high schools, too, the administrators are afraid not of the majority of School Board Members but of that mere "one or two" who raise their eyebrows at such a radical inclusion as a course in sexual problems, even when offered to one sex groups of girls alone, and then the boys.

As a result, everybody seems to take the attitude "Let George do it!"

So you dynamic clergymen should offer a Marriage Clinic every year.

For clergymen have better rapport with married couples and can keep the subject on a high idealistic level, yet also inject needed medical facts.

So send for such booklets as "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c, and use them in church marriage clinics.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

May 1-7, International Women's Bowling Week

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the week of May 1st to May 7th, 1967, has been designated as Women's Bowling Week throughout the World; and WHEREAS, the Women's International Bowling Congress is celebrating its 50th Golden Anniversary during said week; and WHEREAS, the Dixon Women's City Bowling Association is planning to cooperate with said International Bowling Congress by participating in a City Tournament on Plum Hollow alleys at Plum Hollow Golf Club in the City of Dixon at which time women bowlers from Amboy and Dixon are especially invited; and WHEREAS, the Members of the Council of the City of Dixon believe that such an activity is worthy of the support of all citizens, whether bowlers or not:

THEREFORE, I, Harold Rorer, Acting Mayor of the City of Dixon urge all citizens of the City of Dixon to actively support the Women's Bowling Tournament being conducted on Plum Hollow alleys in the City of Dixon during the week of May 1st to May 7th, and heartily endorse the participation of Dixon Women's City Bowling Association in the International Bowling Congress of its 50th Golden Anniversary during said week.

This Proclamation made and entered of record on this, the 4th day of April, A.D. 1967.

HAROLD RORER

Signed:

Acting Mayor

By IRA G. KELLY

Telegraph Sports Editor

The 21st annual Women's Bowling Tournament, open to women from Amboy and Dixon, will get underway Monday night at Plum Hollow Bowling Lanes, with the team events beginning Monday and followed later in the week by doubles and singles matches.

The 21st annual tournament this year takes on added significance as women bowlers around the world pause to recognize the Golden Anniversary of the Women's International Bowling Congress, an organization whose specific purpose is to promote bowling.

The WIBC has supervision of participation of women in tournaments throughout the world and today totals more than 3 million members.

In Dixon alone, some 879 women are members of the organization and a number of leagues have been organized locally for their benefit.

The WIBC specifically offers five major services.

The WIBC offers to its members such pamphlets as the bowling manual, foul rules, average calculator, handicap manual, and the WIBC annual report.

The Woman Bowler is the official magazine of the WIBC and in addition the organization's news department provides members of the daily press, such as this newspaper, with regular information.

The WIBC also provides awards given to women bowlers for high games in sanctioned competition. For games over 275 the WIBC provides medals, and for games of 300, 299, or 298, a ring or medal.

Other awards offered include emblems recognizing a person bowling 100 pins over her average, all spare games, conversion of the 7-10 split, etc.

The WIBC also provides local leagues with supplies, membership cards, etc., upon request and also sponsors the WIBC championship tournament.

Locally, Mrs. John Jacobs is president of the Dixon Women's Bowling Assn.

Sports Parade

By MILTON RICHMAN

UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cassius Clay finally made it.

Today he is a martyr. Some martyr!

In case he's curious about the immediate reaction of the so-called man in the street over his refusal to be sworn into the U.S. Army, it was what is known as generally mixed, which in this case means generally poor.

Some were resentful of his stand in Houston; others were rather indifferent. None stood up and cheered his show of martyrdom.

The first two men asked their opinions may or may not have been representative, but one was white and the other wasn't and both their answers were more or less like a majority of the others.

"I went," declared the first fellow.

"Who the hell is he?" snapped the second.

Only His Name

Clay says the only thing anyone ever leaves behind when he dies is his good name, and then he promptly tosses names around like Jesus, Columbus and Abraham Lincoln, the implication naturally being that one day his name may be bracketed with theirs.

He has a way to go before that. A long way.

En route he wouldn't be badly advised to detour a bit to a good dictionary where it also would not be a bad idea for him to look up the word which obviously means so much to him: martyr.

The dictionary here lists several meanings and Clay is free to choose whichever suits him.

1.)—One who voluntarily suffers death as the penalty of refusing to renounce his religion.

2.)—A great or constant sufferer. Or,

3.)—One who adopts a specious air of suffering or deprivation as a means of attracting sympathy or attention.

Clay already has said he would die for his religion. But that wasn't the first thing he said in the prepared statement he handed out personally in Houston. The first thing he referred to there was his world heavyweight title, without which, even he admits, his voice doesn't carry so far.

"I am looking forward to immediately continuing my profession," he said. "As to the threat voiced by certain elements to strip me of my title, this is merely a continuation of the same artificially-induced prejudice and discrimination."

Clay went on to say that the "sports fans and fair-minded people throughout America" never would accept any other title-holder who would come out of an elimination tournament.

Don't bet on it, Cassius!

The sports fans and fair-minded people throughout America have accepted a lot of things in their time. Maybe the best illustration of that is that they even accepted Cassius Clay and his beliefs for a while.

Now Liable

By his stand, Clay now is liable to prosecution by the Justice Department. It doesn't seem to worry him that much, nor does he seem overly concerned that he is being stripped of his boxing license by one state commission after another and suddenly the country may be closing in on him.

No matter how loud or long Clay talks, this still is his country.

He was born here, he made his reputation here and he was able to speak up as he did because he was here. Also, whenever he fought abroad they always listed him as being from the United States. He never objected then. He didn't have them change it to Mecca or Mars.

Now he has made his decision and because of it some people are angry with him and some are sorry for him. William Faversham, the Louisville businessman who is his friend and who helped get him started on his professional boxing career, belongs to the second group.

"I'm very sorry Cassius has taken this stand," he said. "I felt it is rather tragic that he felt he had to go this far."

Dixon Is 6th Again

STERLING — For the second year in a row, the Moline Maroons won the Sterling Invitational Relays and the Dixon Dukes took sixth place.

The relays, where scoring is on a team basis, the best of three finishers per school entered, rather than on an individual finish, saw five new records established.

Dixon's best finishes were in the discus hurl, which was a second-place finish, and a tie for second with Rockford West in the high hurdle shuttle.

In two events, Dixon was disqualified.

The first disqualification came when the baton in the 880-yard relay was exchanged too early. The second came as one runner in the 480-yard low hurdle shuttle jumped from the starting blocks before being touched.

Perhaps the best individual finish of the night was Dixon's Bob Brainerd and Mike Berentes of Rock Falls in a pole vault duel.

Both went to the wire, but neither could make the final height of 13-7, although both made 13 feet with ease.

Moline won the broad jump, followed by Sterling and East Moline in a tie, with Rock Falls placing fourth and Rockford West taking fifth.

Veale Wins 3rd; Cards Fall 6-2

By GARY KALE

UPI Sports Writer

The real Bob Veale is finally standing up.

A potential 20-game winner, Veale seems to have found the tools to reach the grand plateau this year after posting winning records of 18, 17 and 16 over the last three seasons.

Veale won his third consecutive game Friday night as Pittsburgh rallied to beat St. Louis 6-2 and move into third place. The Pirates were pre-season choices to win the National League pennant in 1967.

Cincinnati defeated New York 7-1, Houston edged Chicago 5-4 in 13 innings, Atlanta stopped Philadelphia 9-8 and San Francisco shaded Los Angeles 5-4.

Pittsburgh backed Veale's five-hitter with a three-run rally that broke a 2-2 tie. Bill Mazeroski sent Roberto Clemente in with the tie-breaker as he singled and Gene Alley drove in two runs with another single. Willie Stargell helped the Pirate attack with his third homer of the year against St. Louis starter and loser Ray Washburn.

Cincinnati increased its lead to 2 1-2 games over second-place St. Louis with an 11-hit attack that featured three safeties apiece by Vada Pinson and Pete Rose. Sammy Ellis evened his record at 2-2 as he beat the Mets for the eighth ish in the event. Rock Island was fourth and East Moline was fifth.

In the 880 relay, Moline copped another blue ribbon, followed by Rockford West and Sterling. Rock Island was fourth and Dixon was disqualified for too early an exchange.

The 480 low hurdle shuttle event was won by Sterling with Rock Falls taking second and Rock Island third. East Moline was fourth and West copped fifth in the event.

Moline insured its victory by winning the mile relay with Rockford West taking second and Rock Island third. Sterling was fourth and Dixon finished fifth after East Moline was disqualified.

Dragstrip Action

BYRON — The area's top nitro-

fuel dragster drivers will be out in force this Sunday at the Rockford Dragway. Byron. Some of the winners at other midwest dragstrips the past month that will be on hand include Dave Powers of Dubuque, Iowa with the "Wedgfire," Clarence Hay of Rockford and his "Nitroholc," Corvinatus of Chicago, Birmont & Long of Moline, and Dick Withery and the Rapp Brothers from Rockford.

Something new has been added at the Rockford Dragway and will go into effect starting this Sunday. This is the "pure stock" or novice division. It is designed for the people that have completely stock cars just as they come from the factory and who would like to join in the races. They will race only against other strictly stock cars with the same horsepower and weight as their own. It will offer a chance for anybody who has never raced a car before to try out their car and driving skill in a safe manner. This includes women as well as men, as the girls can race in both open competition and the all-ladies' powder puff race.

A full field is also expected in the other competition, stock car and motorcycle classes.

Time trials start at 9 a.m. with races beginning at 2 p.m.

UNION GROVE, Wis. — The jet-powered dragsters of Romeo Palamedes of Oakland, Calif., and Dave Corey of Dayton, Ohio will headline Sunday's races at the Great Lakes Dragway, Union Grove, Wis.

Palamedes' dragster, the "Untouchable," has raced here before and holds the 2nd fastest speed ever turned at the Union Grove dragstrip, 237 miles per hour. Luck has never been with Palamedes in Wisconsin as 3 of his jet creations have been totally destroyed in spectacular crashes.

In June of 1963 the "Untouchable I" met its end in a fiery crash at the State Fair Park. In September of the same year, the "Untouchable II" crashed at the Great Lakes Dragway. In 1965 his jet dragster, "California Kid," went out of control and rolled over a dozen times.

The "Untouchable" will be competing in a best of 3 match race against the "
